Each bridge shall consist of at least 2 finished pieces attached to land and 0 or more connecting pieces. The number of connecting pieces required to build the bridge depends on how long it must be. The bridge gives villagers access to separate lands, such as across rivers or valleys. The height of the bridge will affect material costs, which means that bridges over mountain gaps will cost more than a bridge over a river of the same distance. The wooden bridge is unlocked after the construction workshop is completed. The stone bridge is immediately unlocked when there are 10 citizens.
